

It seems to me the rights of the citizen to privacy are being eroded and will further be eroded with the passing of this law. The government has never been able to "snoop" so easily into the private affairs of citizens as it has in the past decade. I believe it important that we do not allow such easy access to people's private information. Law enforcement agencies have already exhibited an abuse of this listening ability with people who are being monitored for reasons less than suspect in regards to national safety and more to do with dissent of government policies. Dissent is an important part of this country and is the basis of this country's founding. We must not discourage dissent with a fear based, big brother government.
